

MBE South Africa Launches In Cape Town

MBE is pleased to announce the establishment of its South African business, headed up by MBE Associate Director, Matthew Brittan (pictured right).

As a Fellow of the Actuarial Society of South Africa, Matthew has Gained extensive actuarial consulting experience, both in the UK and South Africa. Specifically, he has been involved in and managed projects relating to actuarial modelling, valuations, process re-engineering, product development, pricing and Solvency II and SAM implementation.

"MBE has always had strong links to South Africa, so it was a natural next step to set up our offices here, allowing us to service our South African clients in line with our goal of being a truly international business," says Matthew.

MBE South Africa will be fully supported by the team in the UK and will leverage the expertise obtained from various projects completed in the UK and Europe to focus on the following areas:

- Streamlining, automating and transforming actuarial processes, taking into account regulatory requirements (such as SAM).
- Prophet Development, including Prophet ALS implementation.
- Providing look-through asset expertise and capabilities, as well as market risk SCR calculations through the use of our TRANSKAP solution.

We look forward to building and adapting our service offering as we strengthen our relationships with our South African clients.
